2 Natadera Temple

With a history of over 1300 years, it is said that this temple was established in the year 717 by Taicho, a monk who played an integral role in opening up Mt. Hakusan as a major religious center. Hence, Natadera Temple has been known as a place of worship for the revered mountain since ancient times. Unique sights include rock formations reminiscent of landscape paintings, and a rock cave that symbolizes a mother's womb (walking through takes one through a cycle of rebirth and purification). An ideal place for refreshing your soul amidst the grandeur of nature.

Why♥Mt.Hakusan?

"Haku" means "white" and refers to how the mountain's peaks remain visibly snowy year-long. Komatsu's proximity has blessed locals with the mountain's pure waters and spectacular views throughout the year!

Along with Mt. Fuji and nearby Mt. Tateyama, Mt. Hakusan is one of Japan's "Three Holy Mountains". These mountains have been revered as Shinto deities and powerful spiritual centers since ancient times.

3 Lake Kiba Park

A nature paradise populated by birds and aquatic plants, Lake Kiba is the only lake in the prefecture to have retained its past appearance. From the 1700 sakura trees that bloom around the lake, to irises and maple trees, you can enjoy the stunning scenery of nature against the backdrop of Mt. Hakusan throughout the year. It is also a well-known spot for bird-watching, strolling and canoeing.

4 Awazu Onsen Public Bath

Awazu Onsen is the oldest onsen town in the Hokuriku region, said to have been discovered in 718 after a divine message from Mt. Hakusan led the monk Taicho there. The accessible public bath is especially effective for nerve and muscle aches, as well as skin conditions. You could take a hike around the nearby "Lover's Sanctuary" and Dakeyama mountain course, before a soothing dip in the gentle hot spring waters.
