What's the Old Hokkoku Kaido Road?

Constructed during the Edo period (1603-1868), this road connected the post towns of Torimoto in Shiga Prefecture and Oiwake in Nagano Prefecture. When heading to Kyoto along the Hokkoku Kaido Road, Nonoichi City's Honmachi district was the first post town after Kanazawa Castle, and many examples of historical architecture can still be seen there.

An Important Cultural Property of Japan

Nonoichi City See Kita Family House

●喜多家住宅

The architectural beauty conveyed by a traditional townhouse

The Kita family is an old family that used to operate a sake brewing business. The main building was originally located in Kanazawa, but was moved to its current location during the Meiji period (1868-1912). The main front door and intricate latticework on the facade are typical of machiya (traditional townhouse) architecture.

What's a Geopark?

A geopark is a type of natural park that includes elements of geological heritage from which we can learn about the Earth's history, including nature such as the inhabiting plants and animals, and other objects of archaeological and cultural value. The Hakusan Tedorigawa Geopark was registered as a Japanese Geopark in 2011 with the "Journey of Water" and the "Journey of Rock" in the Tedor River area as its themes. It was recognized as a UNESCO Global Geopark in 2023.

Hot Spring Towns

Here, there & everywhere!

There are many unique hot springs scattered throughout Kaga no Kuni. Here we'll introduce some of the best. Take a soak at these notable hot springs on your way round the surrounding tourist spots.

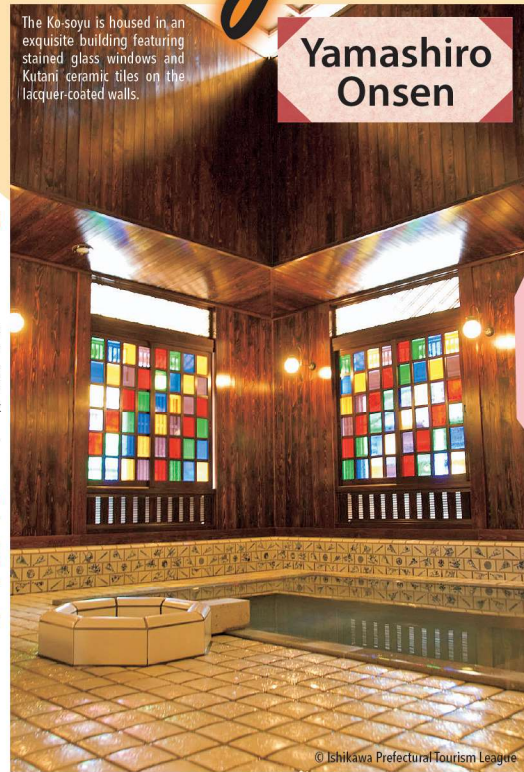

The part of town encircling the Ko-soyu bathhouse is known as the "yu no gawa" (area around the hot spring). It is the heart of Yamashiro Onsen, a hot spring town where you can find many yokans and stores.

Kaga City Day spa Yamashiro Onsen Ko-soyu & Soyu

山代温泉 古総湯・総湯
Two bathhouses with different styles—one retro, one modern
The Ko-soyu is a reproduction of the original public bathhouse built here in 1886. Enjoy bathing the old-fashioned way in this building in which there are nothing but baths, with hot spring water straight from the source—continuously flowing, undiluted, and naturally heated. The Soyu is an everyday public bathhouse frequented by locals.

MAP P3A2

Yamashiro Onsen

The Ko-soyu is housed in an exquisite building featuring stained glass windows and Kutani ceramic tiles on the lacquer-coated walls.

▲The two-storey tall Ko-soyu is topped with a wooden shingled roof

Bathing at the Ko-soyu

The men and women's sections at the bathhouse each have a changing room and bathing room only. There are no faucets or showers and using soap is not allowed, so you should rinse your body with bath water before stepping in for a soak.

▼Relax while gazing at the beautiful garden

Kaga City See Rosanjin's Cottage, "Iroha Soan"

●山人 寓居跡 いろは草庵
The temporary abode of famed artist Rosanjin
Before he achieved fame, Kitaaji Rosanjin, who would later go on to become renowned as an artist and gastronome, stayed in this former holiday house for half a year in 1915. Here, he passed his time at the onsen and carving signboards and the like.

MAP P3A2
 18-5 Yamashiro Onsen, Kaga City From Kaga-Onsen Station, take the Hokutetsu Bus Onsen-Yamanaka Line to Yamashiro Onsen, then walk for 6 min. Admission: 560 yen 9 A.M.–5 P.M. (entry until 4:30 P.M.) Wed. (open if Wed. is a national holiday) 20 spaces

Yamanaka Onsen

Kaga City Day spa Yamanaka Onsen Kiku-no-yu Public Baths

山中温泉 総湯「菊の湯」
Symbolic bathhouse in the middle of the town
The men's bath and the women's bath—located in two separate buildings—both feature waist-deep baths that allow you to soak in the natural onsen water even while standing. Meanwhile, outside the men's bathhouse, you can try your hand at making your own onsen eggs.

Festivals in Kaga no Kuni that offer a taste of history and culture

Late Jan. to early Feb.
Hakusan City Yuki-daruma (Snowman) Festival
 ●雪だるままつり
A unique event particular to the region, which experiences heavy snowfall. Residents make snowmen of all sizes and display them in front of their homes and on vacant land, transforming the entire village into a snowman park. After the sun sets, candles are lit to create a dreamlike world.

There are tons of cute snowmen

Late July to early Aug.
Nonoichi City Nonoichi Jonkara Festival
 ●野々市じよんからまつり
This is one of Nonoichi City's most iconic summer festivals. The Bon dance, held to honor the spirits of one's ancestors, is performed to the tune of "Nonoichi Jonkara Bushi", a folk song that has been sung from long ago. People from the town form a giant circle and dance to live music performances.

The main event is the group dance, during which local residents join the dancers

May 3–5
Nomi City Kutani Porcelain Festival
 ●丸谷茶碗まつり
A special bazaar held at the home of Kutani production. Potteries and wholesalers set up stalls selling a wide range of items from everyday pieces to works of art at reasonable prices. You can also enjoy painting workshops as well as refreshments.

Visitors flock here from across Ishikawa and Japan

Early Aug.
Kawakita Town Kawakita Festival
 ●川北まつり
The festival involves local folk entertainment, including drumming performances such as "Mushi Okuri Taiko" (driving away insects from the rice fields) and "Tedorii Koryu Taiko" (bringing vitality to the region), as well as lighting fires for the souls of one's ancestors, known as "Okuribi", which are carried out against the backdrop of a large bonfire. The climax of the festival is the Hokoku Fireworks Display, the largest fireworks display in the Hokuriku region, during which about 20,000 fireworks are set off.

The 40-meter-high bonfire is a thrill to witness

Mid-May
Komatsu City Otabi Festival
 ●お旅まつり
Annual spring festival of Uhashi Shrine and Motoori Hiyoshi Shrine. The highlight is the kabuki plays staged by children on hikiyama floats. This tradition dates back to the Edo period (1603-1868), and the authentic performances, costumes, and music all rival those of adults.

The Hikiyama-hikizoroe light-up

August
Kaga City Yamashiro Daidengaku Festival
 ●山代大田楽
Dengaku is a traditional style of performance that was popular in medieval Japan. Today's Daidengaku Festival has adapted it to fit modern times, with performers dressing up in vibrant costumes and engaging in a lively dance while holding torches.

The colorful and eccentric costumes are a major draw

*Festivals may be canceled. Please check festival dates before setting off.
